

Family violence assistance

1. Overview

1.1 At a glance

Our policy explains how we can help you if you're experiencing or have been affected by family violence.

1.2 Scope

Our policy covers you if you self-identify or are identified by us or a community service provider as experiencing family violence.

1.3 Objective

Our policy helps you:

- keep the water on – regardless of your capacity to pay.
- explain your circumstances only once by giving you a case manager.
- to avoid disclosing any personal information other than information about your capacity to pay.
- keep your personal information, including your location, safe.

2. Policy in detail

We want to help you when you need it and make it as easy as possible.

2.1 We'll keep your information safe

All customers identified as experiencing or affected by family violence will be offered to enter our BillAssist[®] program, regardless of their financial situation. This applies to owners, occupiers who are not owners and tenants.

We do this as a means of protecting sensitive customer information and assigning a case coordinator to be a single point of contact. Being in the BillAssist program means all enquiries will go through our dedicated Customer Care team who have access to the confidential information section on a customer's account. This helps to ensure information is not inadvertently provided to other connected parties. The team all hold a tertiary qualification in social services and have received specific training in domestic and family violence.

We will assist and protect the information of all customers; however, we must remain compliant with NSW privacy laws. As such, we won't disclose or discuss account information with any person other than the individual of whom that information relates to unless you are an authorised representative. Non-authorised customers can request assistance without us providing account information. Where family violence has been disclosed, we may use our discretion to limit information released to the owner about arrangements made by tenants or occupiers who are not owners.

2.2 We'll make it easy if you need help with your bill

We understand that every customer's situation is different. We know that water as an essential service makes it a target for financial abuse. Our staff will offer you a payment arrangement to help you pay your bill. Our payment arrangements are flexible and you can re-negotiate them if your circumstances change. Different options may be available depending on your connection to the property.

You can call us on 13 20 92 8am–5:30pm AEST Monday to Friday (except public holidays) or complete the self-referral form on our website at any time.

2.3 We'll offer support if you need a little more help with your bill

For residential customers, who are an owner, occupier or a tenant, we can offer you more help if you need it. If you get in touch, we can work together to get on top of your bill and offer you specialised help. We can:

- make sure you get the government concessions you're entitled to.
- give you the right payment plan.
- help you set up Centrepay payments if you get Centrelink support.
- refer you to a community service agency that we partner with for help. This might be for counselling services, emergency financial relief or medical advice and support.
- offer you help through our Payment Assistance Scheme (PAS).
- help you use less water by giving you tips on ways to save.
- offer emergency and essential plumbing work through our PlumbAssist[®] service (if you own and live in your home).

2.4 We won't restrict your water supply or take legal action if we're helping you

We'd like to work with you to keep the water on. We won't restrict your water supply or take legal action in any of these situations:

- We're helping you through our BillAssist® program.
- You've asked for a payment plan and are making payments.
- You've set up Centrepay payments through Centrelink and we're receiving payments.
- You've lodged a complaint about your bill and we're looking into it or you've lodged one with the Energy & Water Ombudsman NSW.

2.5 We'll give you a respectful, confidential service

Our staff work respectfully with you and care about your privacy. We take it very seriously and handle your personal information in accordance with NSW privacy laws. Our specialist team ask for personal information for the purpose of understanding your capacity to pay and identifying your connection to the property to authorise you. but that information won't be used for any other purpose. The team will then provide advice on support options available to you. We may require proof of your connection to the property to authorise you, but that information won't be used for any other means.

2.6 We'll give you help for free

Our help and advice is free. We also offer a free:

- Interpreter service if you have trouble with English. Call 13 14 50 to request the language you need and then ask to speak to Sydney Water on 13 20 92.
- Teletypewriter (TTY) service if you're hearing impaired. Call 133 677 and ask for 13 20 92.

We promote help with your bill in our customer newsletters, reminder notices and on our website and social media pages. We also publish water wise tips on our website.
