Early morning delivery of essential equipment - Panorama Estate, North Wilton

Thank you for your patience as Sydney Water delivers new drinking water, recycled water and wastewater infrastructure, to service growing communities in the Wilton area.

As part of this work, Sydney Water's contractor, Quickway, has been constructing a new wastewater pumping station next to the Wilton school site on Fairway Drive.

We are now in the final stages of completing this work.

About our upcoming work

For the next phase of constructing the wastewater pumping station, we will be installing a Chemical Dosing Unit on the site.

Due to the size and weight of the Chemical Dosing Unit, it needs to be transported to site using an oversized semi-trailer in the early morning. For this reason, we need to start work earlier for one day only.

We are planning to complete this essential work on Wednesday, 26 August 2026 between 6am and 7am.

Our standard work hours are 7am to 6pm Monday to Friday and 8am to 1pm on Saturday.

The semi-trailer will travel to the pumping station work site from Picton Road through private property, and along a sealed road on the western boundary of Panorama Estate. The map of our pumping station work area and truck route is provided on the next page.

Minimising our impact on you

We understand that work outside standard hours may be disruptive and will make every effort to minimise disturbance and impacts on nearby residents.

We expect only minor and short-term noise as the semi-trailer travels past Misty Meadow Crescent, Crop Crescent, Clifton Crescent and Daisyvale Crescent to the pumping station site. Once the delivery is complete, the semi-trailer will leave the area via the same route.

Appropriate traffic management, safety and environmental controls will be in place during this activity.
