

Excursion terms and conditions

To ensure the safety of all visitors to our industrial sites, all participants must comply with the following:

What to wear

- Everyone, including teachers and group leaders, must wear sturdy, fully enclosed, flat soled shoes such as joggers, closed school shoes or boots. There should be no skin showing on feet. No open shoes such as sandals, thongs or ballet flats.
- University students and adults must wear long sleeves that covers wrists and long pants that covers ankles.
- School students are permitted to wear school or sports day uniforms.
- We will provide high visibility vests, gloves, hard hats and safety glasses if they must be worn during the tour.

Participants not complying with this dress code cannot participate in the site visit.

Duty of care

The group leader must supervise the group the whole time and exercise duty of care. Teachers and group leaders are responsible for all participants. This includes ensuring all participants have parent/guardian permission to attend the site.

We are not responsible for any loss, damage or costs incurred by participants, including damage to property or personal injury except where we have acted deliberately to cause the loss.

Fitness and mobility

Participants must be physically able to climb stairs, walk at heights and on uneven surfaces for up to one hour.

Safety

All participants agree to complete a safety induction at the site. Participants will follow our instructions and directions at all times during the site visit.

Alcohol and other drugs

All Sydney Water sites are drug and alcohol free.

Photos

Mobile phones and cameras are not permitted on tours for safety and security reasons.

What to bring

The group leader must bring the completed participant list and a first aid kit. It should be easy to carry (eg backpack or shoulder strap).

Food and drink, as required. Eating and drinking are only allowed inside the Education Centre. There are no food outlets near or on the site.

Final student numbers

Call us 1800 724 650 immediately if your participant numbers have changed or you need to cancel.

If we need to cancel

We may cancel at short notice due to operational requirements or wet weather. We will contact you at the earliest opportunity if this is the case.
